Gabriel Vlahić-Puljić

Front-end Web Developer

Front-end web developer building responsive, accessible websites with HTML, CSS and JavaScript, as well as Webflow. Designed, built and launched SafeLeap, a privacy-first web app for planning a career change. Brings ten years of experience running a restaurant (leading a team, working with customers every day and keeping the technology running) and IT support training from Sportradar. Looking for a remote junior front-end or web developer role.

PROJECTS

SafeLeap · Web app — 2026

safeleap.app · Live product

- Calculator that shows how many months someone can live without income before changing career
- 15 career goals, each adjusting how long the new path usually takes to start paying
- Privacy first: all calculations run in the browser, no user data is stored or sent
- Content structured for search: guides and FAQ answering real questions

HTML · CSS · JavaScript · SEO

Personal Portfolio — 2026

Hand-coded, no frameworks · code on GitHub

- Responsive single-page site with CSS Grid, mobile menu and scroll animations
- Accessibility built in: keyboard focus styles, skip link, reduced-motion support

HTML · CSS · JavaScript · Git

EXPERIENCE
